Redefining Diagnostics and Long-Term Maintenance for Optimal Health and Optimal Restorative Results (3 CE credits)

2D x-rays and periodontal probing have been the mainstream of diagnosing disease for the last 75 years. Long-term maintenance has routinely only included power brushing and begging your patients to floss. Yet, all too often the disease returns and nothing changes! This course is meant for doctors and their teams to understand, “we can do far better” from diagnostics to long-term maintenance. This makes your cosmetic and restorative work better too.

This course gives you actual tools to create easier workflow, better results, and higher patient satisfaction.

Speaker: Tanya Dunlap, PhD

No Sales Pitch, No Pressure. Case Presentation by the Numbers, Literally (2 CE credits)

Good case presentation focuses on the treatment needs of the patient and your need to stay on schedule. It also highlights your status as a dental professional, not a high-pressure sales rep.

This course gives you a framework to educate and support case acceptance decisions with numbers (a gum score) and factual statements. It also gives you options for holding patients accountable if they reject recommended treatment.

You will learn our 5-step presentation outline and a clear reply if treatment is declined. While this course uses case presentation for periodontal medicament carriers as the main topic, the skills you learn will apply to general practice.
